

*And the best part?
It's within our reach.*

If each member of the Class of 2005 commits to a monthly stop order of just R500 for 12 months, we will hit our target. Together, we can create a lifeline that will outlive us, supporting students year after year, long after the last lecture hall fades from memory.

We once took an oath to dedicate our lives to the service of others. This fund is an extension of that oath – a way to ensure that no talented future doctor is left behind because of financial struggle.

2005. Let's heal forward. Let's build the future we would have wanted.

Class of 2005
Leaving a legacy of care*

Who We Are

Twenty years ago, we stood together at the threshold of our medical careers – full of dreams, determination, and the belief that healing is more than a profession, it's a calling. Today, we are leaders, healers, specialists and mentors. We have grown, we have thrived, and we have carried the spirit of 2005 into every hospital, clinic and community we serve.

Now, it's time for us to give that same spirit back.

Many final-year medical students are struggling – not with academics, but with the financial burden that threatens to derail their journey just as they are about to qualify. We know how hard those years were, and we also know the difference that a helping hand can make.

Our mission is to build a lasting legacy that supports medical students in need

That's why the Class of 2005 Endowment Fund has one bold goal:

To raise R1 million that will provide sustainable support to sixth-year medical students in financial need.

Here's how it works:

- » The capital of R1 million will be invested.
- » Each year, 70% of the interest earned will support struggling final-year students.
- » The remaining 30% will be reinvested, ensuring the fund grows stronger every year.

This isn't just charity. It's legacy. It's building something permanent that future generations of doctors will benefit from – because of us.
